For D. & V. G. Babbage, Editors and Proprietors

SENATOR HAMMA got 56 votes in the House and 17 in the Senate—enough to elect.

The wave of murders in this state should be followed by an epidemic of hangings.

HON. W. J. BRYAN has returned from his trip to Mexico. He says the trip only served to confirm his faith in free silver.

Will the present Legislature do something to make the criminal law more effective. Crime seems to be on the increase.

It is said that the present Legislature is full of young orators. But an orator is hardly so much thought of as the man who succeeds in putting in active operation some measure for the public good.

The supervisors of the county tax list met at Hardinsburg last week and completed their work last Friday evening. The raised list will amount to between seventy-five and a hundred thousand dollars in the county. Over two hundred names appear on the list.

A cyclone struck Morganfield, in Union county, Sunday evening and destroyed the immense store belonging to H. Mart, who has relatives in this and Hancock county. His loss was $30,000. The total loss was $30,000. City Marshal Sellars was crushed and killed by the collapse of the city hall.

This circulation of the News last year ran ahead of any previous year in its history. Our advertising business almost doubled in amount with other business in proportion. The proprietors of the paper therefore feel much gratified over the results of the year's business and are assured that 1898 will bring even better results. If you want a good paper for your home take the News.

"As strong as Gibraltar" is a term that can be safely used in describing the Bank of Hardinsburg. Its annual statement just issued shows the deposits in the bank for 1897 to be $157,346 91. In 1896 the deposits were $101,106 31, showing an increase of $56,240 60. This shows a wonderful increase of prosperity among the farmers and business men of Breckenridge county and it is an eloquent tribute to the conservatism and ability of the administrative officers of this splendid institution.

For State Senator.

Hon. Til Groves, who acted as Door-keeper in the last session of the Indiana Legislature, will more than probably be a candidate for State Senator from the district embracing the counties of Perry, Crawford and Spencer. If he does, his opponent will know it.

AUNT CAROLINE

Has Delighted Thousands of Orphans With Twenty-Three Festive Dinners.

While at Louisville this week the News visited the Baptist Orphan's Home. This institution has been in existence over a quarter of a century and is a model of its kind. It is a home where an immense family of 1028 orphans of both sexes have been cared for as tenderly as was possible under the circumstances. The sanitary arrangements of the institution are splendid and it is probably due to this reason that the mortality is so low, there having occurred only 14 deaths since the foundation of the home. One of the unique persons connected with the institution is "Aunt Caroline," the good old colored cook. She is the typical "mammy" of antebellum days and for 23 years has prepared the daily meals for the 1028 children who have been inmates of the home. She prides herself upon the 23 Thanksgiving dinners she has cooked for the youngsters, and is satisfied that each succeeding dinner eclipses its predecessor.

With His Ferrets

The Nelson Record says: Mr. S. W. Shellman, of Breckenridge county, is in town. He has with him two ferrets, which are on duty as rat exterminator at Grigby & Co's warerooms. In their particular line these little animals are masters of cunning and agility. Rats and mice are not given a chance to remain long on the same premises with them.

Our Illustrated Edition.

The News has made arrangements for the publication of a handsome illustrated edition of this paper to appear in a few weeks.

The issue will be dedicated to the advancement of the material interests of Cloverport and Breckenridge county. It will contain an exhaustive description of the mineral wealth of this county and will also give in detail a resume of the splendid advantages of this city and county as a point for the location of industrial enterprises and the investment of capital.

To make this edition a success we have secured the services of Mr. Ed Goodnight, whose work on other editions of this nature, in the leading cities of the state, practically guarantees a journal that will be hard to excel for literary merit and typographical beauty. The edition will contain beautiful half tone illustrations of the churches, public buildings, stores, residences and leading citizens of the county.

Now quit writing it 1897.

The new town paps should restore the street lights.

Come in and renew your subscription to the News.

Miss Mittie Breeding returned home last Saturday.

D. H. Severs, of Henderson, was here one day last week.

Dr. P. W. Foote, of Bewleyville, was in town last Saturday.

Chin's Royalty preached at Antioch church last Sunday night.

Dent Brown has moved into J. H. Lennin's property on Main street.

The Historical club will discuss the Hawaii question next Saturday night.

J. B. Cox has been appointed city clerk by the new board of trustees.

Did you read the statement of the Bank of Hardinsburg doing a good business.

B. F. Beard and his daughter, Miss Beanie, will leave for California this week.

Lewis Moreman has sold out here and says he intends to move to Meridian Mississippi.

A new carpet has been put down in the Circuit Court rooms and the front doors rebang.

Out at Antioch church is a good place for a Sunday School, and it should be organized at once.

Mrs. D. S. Richardson, of Union Star, came over last week to visit her daughter, Mrs. P. M. Beard.

James W. Miller has bought out the interest of Mr. Jarboe in the firm of Mattingly & Jarboe at Kirk.

Misses Carrie and Nellie Atwood and Lila Withers and John Kennedy entered the B. N. college last Monday.

Richard May lost a fine gold watch while out hunting about ten days ago, and has not been able to find it.

The town will be full of students next session. Numbers of them are already making applications for board here.

Henry Harned, of Harned, thinks he will move his family to town and enter three of his children in the B. N. college.

Dr. D. H. Basham and H. V. Basham will be at Hardinsburg on Jan. 10th to practice dentistry and remain one week.

The mud in the roads now is fearful. When you strike the old turnpike you can go sailing. Ought to have some more pikes.

John S. Rhea says there is no truth in the report that he will be a candidate against Joe Blackburn for the United States Senate.

All persons wanting photographs or pictures of any kind must come before the first day of February as I will leave here on that date.—W. J. Mattingly.

Several gentlemen met at the court house last Saturday night and organized the Pater Historical club. R. N. Miller was elected President, and Kimbal Harman, Secretary.

Nelson Haynes and Mrs. Alice J. Norton were married at the residence of Rev. H. C. Hook in this place last Wednesday. The groom is sixty-four and the bride sixty-three years of age.

Said J. A. Witt: "Last fall I thought thirty-six bushels of beans and now they are nearly all out. Irish potatoes are too high for the people this year, and they are taking bean soup instead."

Rev. W. B. Sneed, of this city, preaches to more congregations than any minister in the county. There are nine churches in his charge and the distance he travels to reach them all covers over eighty miles.

The new board of town trustees met last week and organized with G. W. Beard as president. About the first thing they did was to knock out the pool table by refusing to license them any further. Allen R. Kincheloe was appointed Police Judge pro tem, in the absence of Judge Board who is in Texas.

Alex. West is on duty as marshal.

On tomorrow the plaintiff will take depositions in the suit of Hobson Frank vs Ben T. Miller. On Tuesday, the 18th of this month, the plaintiff has given notice to take depositions in the case of Wm. Miller vs Brickey & Co. On the 20th the plaintiffs give deposition in the case of Robt. Lavelly vs G. P. Comer & Co, and defendant in some case on the 21. On the 25 plaintiffs will take in the case of Nehemiah Dowell vs G. W. Basham, Administrator & Co.

We had the pleasure of attending a joint meeting of the Foreign and Home Missionary societies at the parsonage last Friday evening. The body is composed of some of the most elegant and entertaining women in this part of the county. And when it comes to things spiritually they just let the Lord have his way with them and he seems to lead them in directing the missionary work in a manner that will make the cause flourish over all opposition. They throw in their dimes and their nickels and dollars with a freedom that challenges comparison. One lady from a distance sent in five dollars; others a dollar each, until the footings for a single monthly meeting ran up close to twenty dollars. But paying is not all; these women sing and pray, and read and talk and dispatch business likewise with perfect accuracy. These societies are organizations of the Methodist Episcopal church South, of the Elizabethtown district.

Mrs. M. B. Ford, Russell's, Ill., suffered for eight years from dyspepsia and chronic constipation and was finally cured by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for all stomach and liver troubles.—Short & Haynes.

BRANDENBURG.

W. D. Howard is in Louisville. Business and social affairs stagnant. John Powell was in Louisville last week.

Literary Friday night and a big debate.

Mr. Burton has taken quarters at Mr. Hardesty's.

The Mimes Neal, of Hardin, are pupils at the Normal.

Services at all three of the churches last Sunday.

C. M. Nevitt went to Louisville last week on business.

Willie Bland is behind the counter at J. D. Richardson's.

Miss Lena Nevitt went to Louisville with her aunt, Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Herndon spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Mrs. J. D. Hardin is very much improved and able to drive out.

Elvise Wimp has been quite sick, but is at this writing much better.

Rob and Frank Mallin came up to see their sister, Miss Zola, married.

Will Flaherty is with his sister, Mrs. Hardesty, to attend the Normal.

Come to the Brandenburg Normal for the spring term, beginning February 1st.

We have some new studies in music and the Etude for '98. It is a fine musical journal.

Lee Hagan, the new sheriff and his family are in the house next door to Massena Fountain.

Mrs. Dan Roberts came to see her sister, Mrs. Martin last week, who was quite sick. She is now up.

Miss Beulah Fontaine entertained her young friends last Saturday night in honor of Miss Florence Smith.

J. D. Hardin has purchased the office recently occupied by Dr. Dowden and will have it moved to Court-Row convenient to his business.

Dennie Walter Lewis is a fine specimen of babyhood. He can say "Jap" quite plainly. Well, what does that signify? Nothing! Only a coincidence.

Thus delicacy of sentiment and feeling has to yield to coarseness and lack of consideration every time but an inward consciousness of having done right is the olive branch.

I regretted to notice the death of Mrs. Annie Brown. She spent the first year of her married life here and was highly esteemed for her many excellent qualities of mind and character.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Mooreman have received the news from their son, Robert, of his marriage. Bob has been out west for sometime but expects to be at home in the spring with his bonnie bride.

Wm. B-wley, a salesman for several years at Mr. H. C. Worden's, has gone to Howard & Son. Geo. Frymire and Beall Grinnell are still holding the fort at Woodson's with J. T. Haynes added to deliver.

Mr. Thornbury has possession of the hotel on the hill and the keys to the court-house. Phillip Noel, stands ready to prosecute while Mr. Willett is at his post in the Circuit Clerk room. The officers who succeeded themselves are at your service as of yore.

Don't try to conform to the opinions of others. Be yourself. Do as you know is right. Policy is a poor guide unless principle underlies it. Some folks in this land of ours would like to be Czar and Czarina but Russia is some miles off. I wish Siberia was nearer.

Mrs. S. C. Mallin will leave this week with her daughter, Mrs. Mason McMonigle for Owensboro to reside. Rob and Frank Mallin her sons are there engaged in business. We hope Mrs. Mallin may be happy in her new home and that the change may be for her future welfare.

I do enjoy the Irvington letters—so chatty—so whole soul. I always feel like I had, had a face to face chat. Here's, that Bob Jolly don't stay the full term in Frankfort and here's if he does that, a certain "chatty" correspondent will mend her way to the historic spot, on the Kentucky river.

James Lane Allen says some deliciously sweet things in "Choir Invisible." But the greatest truth is when he wrote "Courage is the greatest of attributes and when combined with honor it forms a grand combination." It takes courage and a "lot" of it to push anything in this world to a finish. It is the delight of some to dash cold water on every effort towards advancement and progress, but go-a-head people can stand several cold-water showers and come out victor at last—thanks to courage.

Father Whalen pronounced the words last Sunday at the residence of Mrs. S. C. Mallin that made G. H. Worland and Miss Zola Mallin man and wife. The wedding was a quiet one in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends. George is a promising, rising young business man. Zola is one of our most worthy, estimable young ladies. The party took supper with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gough and will commence house-keeping immediately at furnished apartments on West Main. They received a good many nice presents. Congratulations.

Mrs. James Smith and her two interesting daughters, Florence and Katie, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Smith left last Sunday for Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hardin are very much improved and able to drive out.

Elvise Wimp has been quite sick, but is at this writing much better.

Coughs That Kill

are not distinguished by any mark or sign from coughs that fail to be fatal. Any cough, neglected, may sap the strength and undermine the health until recovery is impossible. All coughs lead to lung trouble, if not stopped.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Cures Coughs

"My wife was suffering from a dreadful cough. We did not expect that she would long survive, but Mr. R. V. Royal, deputy surveyor, happened to be stopping with us over night, and having a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with him, induced my wife to try this remedy. The result was so beneficial that she kept on taking it till she was cured."

"My little daughter was taken with a distressing cough, which for three years defied all the remedies I tried. At length, on the urgent recommendation of a friend, I began to give her Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After using one bottle I found to my great surprise that she was improving. Three bottles completely cured her."

Tuesday for Louisville to spend a few days enroute for Denver, Colorado, their home. Mrs. James Smith has been with her sister, Mrs. Nevitt since last August and we shall all miss her and those attractive girls.

Clarence Neafus, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Neafus died at his home near Ekron, last Friday at 2 o'clock p. m. He had not been well for sometime and had been under medical treatment, but had only been confined to his bed ten days. Dr. Dugan performed an operation last Wednesday assisted by local doctors and pronounced it a tumor which was so located that removal meant instant death. Clarence, poor boy, so young, about twenty-eight never realized that his condition was hopeless and in his anxiety to live, braced up and was even cheerful. The end came quickly but sweetly, peacefully, surrounded by father, mother, young devoted wife his two sisters and many relatives and friends. Clarence was a dear good boy, kind, affectionate, respectful in manner and reliable in all transactions. He married Miss Hattie Caphage, of Lebanon, Ky., about four years ago and they have spent a most happy pleasant life. His remains were entered in the family lot of Brandenburg cemetery, where a large number of friends and relatives assembled to attest the esteem in which he was held. Great sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

A. C. Burton has added about fifteen or sixteen new books to the B. B. Normal Library and yet to think that any one in this advanced age of literature, this day when people must keep up, read and progress should say, "I don't see what good a library does," "From all evils and from all heresies. Good Lord deliver us!" Whenever one cannot lay his hands on some mental food, whenever one ceases to be surrounded by a few congenial, "bookish" book-loving individuals consign one to oblivion! Mr. Burton's pupils are only entitled to the library, which is right, but we have a circle out side which has clubbed together for the New Year and which numbers six magazines taken monthly and exchanged. It has "Ladies' Home Journal," "Ladies' Home Ideal," and many other works to be exchanged. Bro. Henson has a nice library. He and his wife are book-lovers, too. Reading need never interfere with other duties. I do not believe it is scarcely possible for one who loves to read to be unhappy, despondent, or a pessimist. No matter what the heart-ache may be, a good case of literature well assimilated will dispel it. Try it
